YOUR ECO-CONSCIOUS HORIZON. COMFORT, TRANQUILITY & FREEDOM REDEFINED.

Born from a collaboration between maritime visionaries – renowned naval architects INCAT Crowther and leading structural engineers at Gurit – CLC115 represents a seamless fusion of cutting-edge design and exceptional seaworthiness.

Leveraging the shipyard's deep expertise in GRP hull construction, our advanced resin-infusion technique enables the creation of a 35-meter catamaran hull in a single pass—an extraordinary achievement that underscores both engineering precision and an uncompromising commitment to quality.

Sustainability is integral to CLC115's design, featuring optional hybrid propulsion, integrated solar panels, and eco-conscious interiors. A Smart Home module intuitively manages climate, lighting, and onboard systems to enhance energy efficiency and elevate the onboard experience.

Certified to RINA Yacht Class standards, her lightweight composite hull delivers an optimal balance of strength and fuel economy. Powered by twin MAN V8-1300 diesel engines or an optional hybrid system, CLC115 is projected to reach a top speed of 18 knots while offering a smooth, refined cruising experience.

“Designed for conviviality and well-being, every aspect of CLC115 is meticulously crafted to embrace nature, and stimulate interaction. She represents the next evolution in shipbuilding - where craftsmanship meets consciousness. CLC115 seamlessly integrates sophisticated design with eco-friendly technology, setting a new benchmark for what responsible yachting signifies in today's world. With her distinctive features and modern aesthetics, CLC115 boldly articulates our vision for the future of yachting. Our commitment to sustainable luxury transcends mere aspiration; it is our unwavering mission. This dedication fuels our relentless quest for innovation and responsibility within the yachting industry.”
